Product Description

Nylon pulleys, Smith machine pulleys, gym pulleys, strength equipment pulleys, commercial fitness equipment pulleys

The fitness equipment nylon pulley is a pulley designed and developed specifically for fitness equipment, which can be used on multiple products. Gym products, commercial equipment, household equipment, etc. can all be used. The pulley is made of reinforced nylon material and formed in one go, with higher overall strength. Precise high-speed silent bearings are used for smoother rotation, making the transmission of instruments more stable. There are multiple models of pulleys that can be configured according to product requirements.
